

Now we are opening the Book of Love!

By changing my location, such as climbing onto a hill or a mountain, also my view and the way I thought will change. The perspective is expanded, I will see things that I have not seen before.

So it will be with a man who is less focussed at his neighbor but to himself.

Opening the door of my heart, I will open the door to my neighbor. Opening the book of love, I will open the door to peace.

Love is the eternal Being, the Triune God.

What can be greater for mortal man than being with this love in eternity?

Let us now open our hearts to this love and eternal life will welcome us.

Thus joy and inner peace will transform us and the world.

We shall find our true home and fulfillment in Jesus Christ.
