

God's power is love

At all times, there were strong and powerful people who were inspired to support God's work on Earth and to serve selflessly.

On the other hand, there were always people who wanted worldly power and wealth and were willing to do everything to gain them.

According to his internal orientation, man experiences worldly or spiritual success.

The secular-oriented man seeks his fulfillment in wealth and prosperity, spiritual man finds his satisfaction in unity with God.

Some people have the opinion that secular and spiritual success could be achieved at the same time.

Jesus says to us:

"No one can serve two masters. Either you will hate the one and love the other, or you will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve both God and money. Therefore I tell you, do not worry about your life, what you will eat or drink; or about your body, what you will wear. Is not life more than food and the body more than clothes?"

Look at the birds of the air; they do not sow or reap or store away in barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not much more valuable than they? Can any one of you by worrying add a single hour to your life?"

"And why do you worry about clothes? See how the flowers of the field grow. They do not labor or spin. Yet I tell you that not even Solomon in his entire splendor was dressed like one of these. If that is how God clothes the grass of the field, which is here today and tomorrow is thrown into the fire, will he not much more clothe you—you of little faith? So do not worry, saying, 'What shall we eat?' or 'What shall we drink?' or 'What shall we wear?' For the pagans run after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them. But seek first his kingdom and his righteousness, and all these things will be given to you as well. Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own. (Matth.6, 24-34)

Choosing love – the love for Christ, is a decision against solipsistic material and worldly desires. In simplicity and service to our fellowmen it is possible to find and experience true love. By spiritual commitment we are being attached either to God or to the world. This attachment or relationship decides about the experiences and the objectives in our lives.

Willingly putting my life in God's hands, I can trust in God's guidance and grace. The power of love unites the people in God's creation, and will awaken their hearts.

Christ says:

"Take my yoke upon you and learn from me; for I am meek and humble of heart; so, you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is soft, and my burden is light."

(Matth.11, 28-30)

God's love is the source of all being, eternally and continually. The worldly power, however, is short and transitory.

If we are ready to recognize the power of love here and now and to live by it, then we will be united by God's grace as a community of lovers in his big heart.
